VOLUNTEER HANDBOOK

History

The Rise School of Houston (hereinafter "Rise") is a non-profit organization established for the purpose of providing the highest quality of early childhood education services to children with Down syndrome or other developmental disabilities and to children without disabilities from ages 6 months up to 6 years of age. The provision of Rise services is based on recommended practices to young children with diverse abilities and their families.

It is important to understand the history of how the Rise School™ came to be established in Dallas and now Houston. When a local Dallas family gave birth to twins on Easter Sunday in 1995, their lives changed dramatically after their infant son was diagnosed with Down syndrome. Since that day, they have been busy raising three active children and at the same time researching what could and should be done for children with Down syndrome and other developmental disabilities. This research covered hundreds of meetings throughout the United States to determine what vital element was missing. They visited with parents, schools, institutions, doctors, hospitals, and homes for people with special needs hoping to find something specific that would significantly improve the lives of these special children and their families. As a result of their efforts, they formed the organization Friends of Children with Down syndrome in order to promote this cause.

Finally, in September of 1997, this family found that special "something" in Tuscaloosa at The University of Alabama. It was a program named "RISE" which focuses on the needs of toddlers and preschoolers who have developmental disabilities. Under the long-term leadership and influence of Martha Cook, Ed.D., RISE has developed and implemented an effective early childhood special education approach. A unique component of that program is the integration of children having developmental disabilities with peers not having developmental concerns, which has resulted in children's achievements beyond previous expectations.

With enthusiasm and encouragement, this family proceeded to raise the necessary initial funds to establish a Rise School in Dallas and a Rise School in Houston, with both schools dedicated to emulating the RISE Program of the Stallings Center at the University of Alabama. In January 1999 a group of influential Houstonians raised the initial funds to start at The Rise School in Houston, making that school the second Rise School in Texas. This same group also established the needed affiliation with Texas Children's Hospital.

Rise Mission Statement

The purpose of the Rise School of Houston is to provide the highest quality of educational services to children with Down syndrome or other developmental disabilities and their non-disabled peers by:

Providing exemplary services based on recommended practices to young children with diverse abilities and their families;

Offering instructional opportunities through collaboration with various academic programs at local colleges and universities;

Engaging in research that positively influences practice in the field of early childhood education at the local, state and national levels;

Interfacing with the community through outreach and public awareness activities;

Disseminating information and providing technical assistance to other community based agencies; and

Affecting education policy and systems change at the local, state and national levels.

School Philosophy and Goals

The goals of Rise are to:

- a) provide family-centered services designed to meet the individualized needs of all children and families
- b) provide a blend of educational and therapy services within the context of a developmentally appropriate curriculum; and
- c) to prepare children for their next educational environment. The school adheres to the philosophy and recommended practices of both early childhood special education and general early childhood education. The philosophy is based on the following premises and design of the Rise Program at the University of Alabama:
  1. Services are family-centered with particular emphasis placed on the family as the primary decision-maker in each child's education.
  2. The assessment process is dynamic and ongoing and includes multiple procedures, information sources and settings. Assessment is linked to programming.
  3. Services are designed around an individualized intervention plan consisting of goals and outcomes based on family's concerns, priorities and resources; the child's strengths and needs; and expectations of the child's next environment.
  4. Services are offered that vary in intensity and structure, based on the individual and group needs of the children and their families.
  5. Children's development is promoted in all areas including gross and fine motor skills, independence, cognitive skills, social competence and emotional growth and communication skills.

6. Therapy services (i.e., physical therapy, occupational therapy, speech therapy and music therapy) are provided within the context of the educational environment using an integrated approach. Therapy goals are educationally relevant and are implemented collaboratively by the therapists and teaching staff.
7. The foundation of the learning environment and activities is based on general early childhood education guidelines, which are blended with, recommended practices from early childhood special education.
8. Specially designed instruction and curricular adaptations and accommodations are embedded in the daily activities of the classroom.
9. The curriculum is designed to foster children's self-confidence, self-esteem, independence and curiosity.
10. The curriculum is guided by functional objectives that support children in their current environment and prepare them for more inclusive environments.
11. The curriculum reflects a balance between teacher and child-initiated activities.
12. The program addresses the children's transitions from one classroom to another and transitions to other more inclusive educational environments.

All children learn at a different rate and pace. It is the goal of The Rise School™ to work toward achieving an individual's full potential at a pace unique to each child.

In order to accomplish the goals of the Rise program, a total team effort is necessary. Having laid the groundwork to establish an effective teaching and learning environment, the management of Rise Schools now focuses on supporting that necessary teamwork. We depend on your understanding of Rise procedures to enable you to assist us in meeting our team goals. Our ultimate goal is to create a place where "special kids and exceptional volunteers shine".

Licensing

The Rise School of Houston is licensed by the Childcare Division of the Texas Department of Protective and Regulatory Services. Rise adheres to these standards with monitoring through TDPRS site visits.

Class Description

The program houses ten classrooms serving 8-12 students per classroom. Children are assigned to classrooms based on their chronological age and educational needs. The classrooms include: two infant classes (6 months to 18 months), two toddler classes (18 months to 24 months), two 2-year old classes, two 3-year old classes, a 4-year old class, and a 5 and 6-year old class.

Rise offers a number of services to families that may include physical, occupational, speech and music therapies using a collaborative/consultation service delivery model. Many of these services are delivered through an integrated approach in which the therapeutic activities are provided routinely by the teachers and instructional teacher assistants with ongoing input from the therapists. The therapeutic activities are integrated into the daily routine of each classroom. The therapists monitor the activities on a regular basis. Using this approach, therapy is delivered in an efficient manner during a child's school day. Recommendations are also provided to families for carry over in the home environment.

Incident Reporting

An incident report will be completed by the classroom teacher or by the person having knowledge of the facts when any accident, injury or significant event occurs. The report will be completed within 24 hours and will be filed in the child's records. Parents will be notified of any occurrence of an accident or injury.

Health and Safety Procedures

The following health and safety procedures are followed at Rise:

1. Fire drills are conducted monthly and severe weather drills conducted twice a year. Evacuation routes are posted in each of the classrooms.
2. All classrooms maintain a first aid kit.
3. The staff and volunteers wash their hands frequently and appropriately as children are nurtured and handled.
4. Frequently mouthed and handled objects/toys are washed and sanitized between uses by the children.
5. Diaper changing and toileting are performed by the staff of Rise only.
6. All classroom materials such as towels, washcloths, bibs, sheets and blankets are washed after single uses by the children or staff.
7. All electrical outlets at The Rise School are shock proof.
8. All instructional staff and the Director are certified in adult, child and infant CPR and First Aid.
9. All staff receives a physical and TB test annually.

Conscious Discipline

Every classroom has its share of disciplinary issues, and The Rise School of Houston is no exception. But where this inclusive preschool distinguishes itself is with how matters are handled. Recent research in brain chemistry and developmental psychology show that fear-based disciplinary programs seriously impair learning. Simply put, children need to feel safe to do their best learning.

The Rise School of Houston has introduced “Conscious Discipline,” a disciplinary philosophy that teaches children how to regulate their own behavior. One of the problems with the reward and punishment system traditionally used in schools is that they are external. Our goal is to inspire behavior change from within. Conscious Discipline is a comprehensive social and emotional intelligence classroom management program that empowers both teachers and students. Conscious Discipline offers a relationship-based community model of classroom management. The key is a sense of community, with the “school family” at the core of the program. The “school family” is held together through communication skills. These skills are taught during conflict moments in the classroom and through active learning lessons. The goal of the “school family” is to create problem-solvers. Love, expressed through safety, cooperation and respect is the tool used to give the system power. As we seek meaningful relationships with one another, we must also learn skills of interaction that promote respect.

Developed by Dr. Becky Bailey, Conscious Discipline stresses seven skills:

1. Composure – Be who you want children to be.
2. Encouragement – We are all in this together.
3. Assertiveness – Saying “no” and being heard.
4. Choices – Building self-esteem and willpower.
5. Positive Intent – See the best in others.
6. Empathy- Handling the fussing and the fits.
7. Consequences – Learning from mistakes.

Strong relationships with the teacher and other students motivate proper behavior. Conflict is addressed as a “teachable moment” not a shameful event where the child is punished or sent away to time-out. A “Safe Place” is established within the classroom, where students deal with complex emotions. Conscious Discipline also requires teachers to remain calm and composed especially when dealing with disciplinary issues. We can’t expect our children to demonstrate composure if the adults in their lives lack it.
